Re: U.S. v. Ioannis Viglakis
12-CR-585-01(KBF)

Honorable Madam,

I respectfully request that the sentence of the above referenced defendant, presently scheduled for Friday, April 11, 2014 be adjourned for approximately forty-five (45) days. I have sought and received the consent of the government, my client and the probation office for this request. This is the first and only request ever made for this relief.

Mr. Viglakis' case is somewhat complicated. In preparing for sentencing I have encountered issues of United States national security and have sought the aid of alleged operatives in Greece. I am convinced that there is merit to Mr. Viglakis' claims of assistance to the U.S. government that may mitigate in his favor. I have informed the government of these issues and they have neither denied nor confirmed their existence. There are also factual issues regarding the 1st disclosure of the PSI.

Granting of this request will permit me to adequately prepare and provide the government with an ample opportunity to respond.

Respectfully,

-----/s/-----
